SUNDAY SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENTS

Large Catherings at Methodist and Congregational Churches with Pleasing Programmes and Distribution of Gifts.

There was a good sized gathering in the Sunday school rooms of the Second Congregational church, of which J. H. Larrabee is superintendent, on Wednesday evening for the Christmas festival, and for an hour and a haif there was a delightful time for the members and their friends. Many parents were present. There was given a play entitled Jack and Jill which was heartily received, the participants being given much applause for their work. Those who took part were May Gibbs as Jill, Russell Kinney as Jack, Cecil Young as Ralph, Harry Sherman as Santa, Edward Sherman as Frank his brother, Carl Johnson as Ed, Downer Johnson as Edo, Eisle Graham as Molile Lu, Ruth Jackson and Jennie Dearing as the twins, Lottic and Laura, Clifton Gager as Joe, and Vivian Allen and Robert Johnson in the band. There were mandolin selections by Carl Johnson, Miss Johnson playing the accompaniments, while carols were also pleasingly sung. Presents were diagned and the sunday of the Midnight Clear; welcome, Waldo Newbury; singing, Rock-a-Bye, Harriet Newbury; stronger, welcome, Waldo Newbury; singing, Rock-a-Bye, Harriet Newbury; stronger, welcome, Waldo Newbury; singing, Rock-a-Bye, Harriet Newbury; stronger, welcome, Waldo Newbury; singing, Rock-a-Bye, Harriet Newbury; exorcise, The Stocking that Hangs in the Middle, Grace Service, Gladys newbury, Bessie Brown, Merton Palmer; singing by vested choir, Silent Night, Peaceful Night; exercise, Christmas Winks, John Hanson, Forrest Lewis, Milford Newbury, Arthur Ferguson, Arthur Botham, Henry Smith; sing by school, Victory Through Grace; singing, primary department, Little Heart Doors Open Wide; recitation, The Star, Elizabeth Lane; singing by church quartette, Mrs. Grace Crowell, Mrs. Helena Lord, Louis Brown, William Lund; dialogne, How Christmas is Celebrated in Different Countries, Seila Purvis, Hazel Robinson, Olive Ryley, Elizabeth Lane, Florence Odgers, Blanche Porter, Bessie Shaw, Marguerite Wolcott, Florence Cook; singing by sch Capt. and Mrs. Henry Langworthy of Potter court. Mrs. Robert Henderson and son Arthur of Thomaston are spending the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Burnap of Platt avenue.

Walter P. Moran, with the General Electric company at Schenectady, N. Y., is spending a week at his home on Boswell avenue.

Miss Jeanette Strahan, teacher of the sixth grade at Broadway school, accompanied by her sister Agnes, is spending this week in New York and Brooklyn. Saviour's Name.

A concluding number was a Christmas exercise called At Bethlehem on Christmas Day, given in costume by four young ladles and four young men as maidens and shepherds, reproducing the Christmas story. Those participating were the Misses Edith Fellows, Marion Wolcott, Sybil Morgan, Faye Newland, and Russell Hopkins, Guy Carpenter, Edgar Welden, John McNeely. It was finely given, the training having been under the direction of Miss Mary Bidwell.

After singing O Beautiful Bethlehem, the good-bye recitation was given by Roger Wothington. Gifts for the smaller children were then distributed.

In general charge of the programme were the following committee: Mrs. Frank King, Mrs. J. C. Morgan, Mrs. Ernest Newbury, and Mrs. Costello Lippitt. spending this week in New York and Brooklyn.

At the close boxes of candy were distributed among the members of the school, clossing a much enjoyed evening. The credit for the success of the evening was due to the committee in charge, Miss Ruth Kinney, chairman, Miss Martha Reynolds, Miss Catherine Conant, Miss May Gibbs and Miss Jennie Dearing, who received many compliments for the charming result.

At Broadway Church.

With two large and attractive Christmas trees at each elde of the pistform, handsomely decorated and lighted, and the room decorated with hemlock boughs, Christmas bells and poinsettia there was an attractive setting for the cantata given at the Christmas festival of the Broadway Sunday school Wednesday evening. There was a large number present and Supt. H. B. Cary extended a cordial welcome. This was followed by a violin solo by Miss Minnie Townsend, whose accompaniments were played by Miss Crowe. She gave another number later, both being heartily received. Mrs. Charles Tyler Burd sang two charming solos, the first being Holy Night. Her accompaniments were played by Frederick W. Lester.

An offering for the poor of the Sun At Broadway Church. An offering for the poor of the Sun-
